This is a screenshot shows that the personal information page, and all the details are not shown clearly, I can barely see them, here's one of the problems need to be fixed.

This is a screenshot on the profile photo page, as you can see there's some button are not showing the text as well.

This screenshot shows there are some of the product not from local grocery cannot be found yet, it's not a mandatory problem but if the app will develop globally in the future, then it's better to add some product data from other country's market.

This is a screenshot on the personal avatar/profile photo upload page, it won't allow the user to upload any image at the moment, I think this need to be fixed immediately.

These are the problems/bugs I found on the mobile application so far, and I think it's nearly ready for open beta test, some features are not completely working, but overall about the application it's good to go.

And we found that we cannot log in to the application (from 13/8), our team member has reported the issue to the database team, and their team leader are currently working on it.
